UMMC doctor reports “zero” ICU bed availability in the state as COVID-19 hospitalizations continue to rise

SEA COAST ECHO

On Monday, Aug. 9, Dr. LouAnn Woodward, vice chancellor for the University of Mississippi Medical Center and dean of the School of Medicine announced via social media that “there were zero available ICU beds in Mississippi as of early this morning. None. That means hospitals across the state may not be able to provide the level of care needed to you or your loved one. Not just for COVID-19, but for any emergency care.”

“ICU bed availability is an indicator of the strain COVID is placing on Mississippi’s hospitals,” Woodward wrote. “We are caught up in a wave. Is it a rising wave, a crest? We won’t know until it has receded, but right now Mississippi is in distress. The weapons against this virus are easy and safe: Masks and vaccines. Please, if you aren’t already vaccinated, do it today. Vaccinations are free and easily accessible and the vaccines have been proven to be safe and effective. Some people who are vaccinated are contracting the Delta variant, but are experiencing significantly milder symptoms than those who are not vaccinated. It makes a difference. Across the state, nearly 90 percent of hospitalized patients with COVID are not vaccinated, according to MSDH and Hobbs. The vaccines work and could be the difference between you or your loved one getting sick and recovering at home or being hospitalized. And if there aren’t any ICU beds available, the advanced care necessary may not be available.”

The Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) on Tuesday reported 3,488 new cases of COVID-19 in the state and 36 deaths. Eighty-seven new cases were reported in Hancock County.

Hancock County’s total now stands at 4,725

OLA honors art students create paintings for OLG Parish

SEA COAST ECHO

Our Lady Academy’s National Art Honor Society members, Sydney Burrell, Anna Goins, Devin Graham, Kaylee Hardenstein, Claire Wojtowicz, and OLA art teacher, Amanda Bush volunteered their time and talents during the summer break to create paintings and a mural for Our Lady of the Gulf (OLG) Crab Fest Grounds.

In May, The Knights of Columbus Council 1522 Ladies Auxiliary reached out to Mrs. Amanda Bush in pursuit of students who would be interested in creating panels with images representing OLA school, OLG church, and the local community.

The project was completed in time for the annual OLG Crab Fest. Sydney Burrell captured the beauty of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Devin Graham drew the OLG crest, Anna Goins created the picture of OLG church, Kaylee Hardenstein painted the life size crabs on the checkered table, and Claire Wojtowicz painted the circle

Mask mandate, employee vaccination incentive for Bay-Waveland Schools

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Dr. Sandra Reed, superintendent of the Bay-Waveland School District, on Monday announced the district would enact a new mask mandate to help slow the spread of COVID-19, and the district board of trustees unanimously approved Reed’s recommendation to create a vaccination incentive for school employees.

“Because testing facilities are finding themselves at full capacity, and contact tracing is becoming increasingly more difficult for our school nurses, we have found ourselves in a position to require that all students and staff wear face masks throughout the school day, effective Tuesday, Aug.10,” Reed

Group sues D’head POA for trying to collect dues where covenants have expired

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

A group of Diamondhead property owners on Monday filed a lawsuit against the Diamondhead Property Owners Association, seeking to end the organization’s practice of trying to collect dues from owners whose covenants have expired.

The non-profit group, End Diamondhead Uncertainty (EDU) filed the suit Monday in Hancock County Chancery Court. The principal members of the group are Steven K. Byrd and Robert M. Reese. The suit also names the Diamondhead Country Club as a defendant.

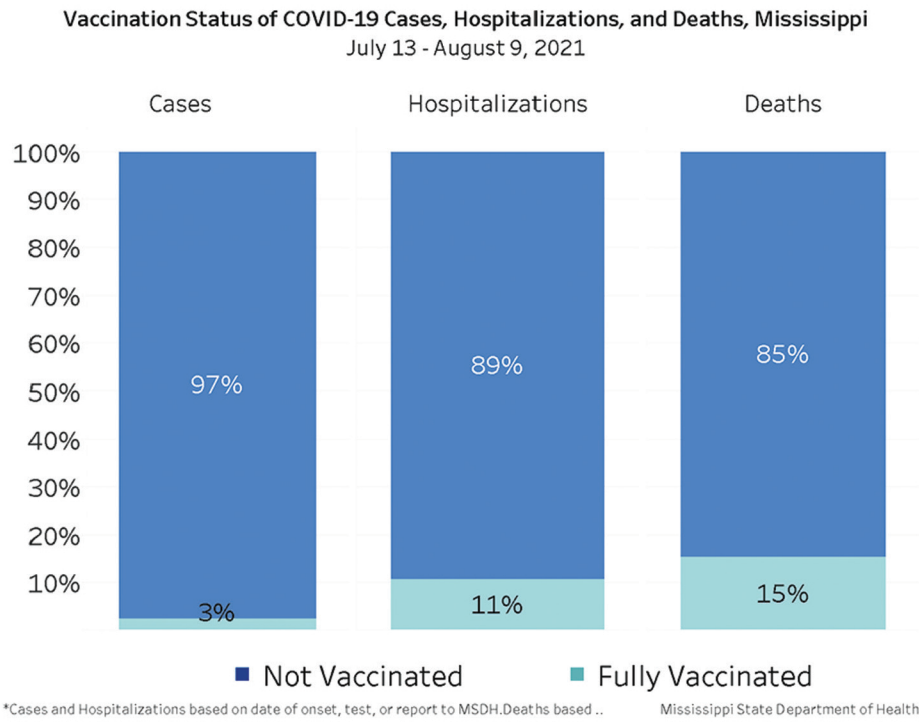

“Owners, new buyers, and the POA need to know what post-expiration legal rights they do and don’t have after expiration,” according to an EDU statement issued Monday. “Property owners formed EDU to seek the certainty of a court judgment.”

Last Thursday, Mississippi State Health Officer Dr. Thomas Dobbs, along with State Epidemiologist Dr. Paul Byers and senior deputy and director of the Office of Health Protection Jim Craig, gave an update on the escalating burden on hospitals due to COVID-19. “We’ve seen a phenomenal increase in the number of daily reported cases of COVID,” Dobbs said. “And this is entirely attributable to the delta variant, which is sweeping over Mississippi like a tsunami.”

On average, the state is seeing about 2,000 cases per day, he said. “And if we look at the trajectory, we see that it’s continuing to increase without any real demonstration of leveling off or decrease. So obviously a sign of major concern.” Dobbs said that there is a “massive” increase of hospitalizations with an average of 144 new hospitalizations per day. On Tuesday, Dobbs said that there were 178 hospitalizations reported for that day. “And this is on top of a hospital system that is already overburdened and overfilled,” he said. “The vast majority of our major medical centers are reporting zero ICU capacity. Most are using accessory mechanisms to care for those individuals and almost all of them are using their ERs as like accessory intensive care units, which causes its own issues because obviously that’s hard to take care of folks in ER because that’s not ICU level of care, but also, it interferes with the functions of the normal emergency departments and the other healthcare needs that we have.” Dobbs said that the

Waveland discusses Waste Management and lobbyists

BY CASSANDRA FAYRE
STAFF WRITER

Last week, the Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen discussed several matters including specs for a contract with Waste Management and the need for a lobbyist for the city.

Ward 1 Alderman Jeremy Burke, who also serves on the board of the Hancock County Solid Waste Authority, said that the curbside contract with Waste Management is scheduled to end in April 2022.

Burke said that the Hancock County Solid Waste Authority will begin working on the specifications for a new contract soon and have those completed by the end of this year.

“What we need to know is, what does Waveland want?” Burke said.

Board members agreed that they still want garbage picked up twice a week.

Burke said that labor shortages at Waste Management have caused delays in pickup times.

He added that Waste

Management would like for residents to use its provided trash can, which fits into the grapple.

“If they break it, they will replace it,” Burke said. “We’ll bid it with or without a cart, but I think we’ll actually probably get a cheaper rate with the cart.”

Burke said that garbage companies would rather “people use their garbage can than another garbage can because they can use their equipment on their garbage can.”

Burke said that the HCSWA will also bid out for grappling services.

“It’s a good service that I think we ought to offer to everybody,” he said.

In a separate matter, the board also discussed the need to renew the city’s contract with Tamara Cascio, and Cascio Sanford Government Law Group, PLLC.

The group provides lobbying services for the city in the state capitol.

Burke said that he believes that Cascio helped the city receive funding during last year’s legislative session, which was about $300,000.

“I think that she or governmental affairs, that’s going to be our calling card to get Jackson money,” he said.

Waveland Mayor Mike Smith said that securing funds involves a number of trips to the Capitol.

“They are right down the road from the Capitol,” he said. “We’ve been averaging, I think our highest is $250,000, of Tidelands money.”

Alderman Bobby Richardson said that the majority of representatives he’s spoken to are “more negative about the lobbyists. They’d rather not see lobbyists.”

Richardson said they would rather see city officials doing the “footwork to get the money.”

“I’ve been to Jackson so many times to sell the city,” Smith said. “Without her help, I can tell you that some representatives wouldn’t have helped at all.”

Smith told the board that whether they voted to continue to contract or not, it wouldn’t stop him from going to Jackson.

“But it certainly doesn’t hurt to have someone that knows the neighborhood when you go into the neighborhood,” Smith said.

Smith said that Cascio gives him updates via phone.

The city has also used the lobbyist for one year, he said.

Another concern amongst board members is how little the city of Waveland has received in funds over the past couple of years.

The board voted three-to-one not to renew the contract. Richardson, Alderman Shane LaFontaine, and Alderman Charlie Piazza voted against the renewal. Burke voted in favor.

In other action: Smith announced that Waveland Fire Chief Tony Mallini would be retiring on Sept. 30 after almost 30 years in fire service.

Effective Aug. 3, due to the rise in COVID-19 cases, masks will be required in city hall.

The board approved a motion to accept the Mississippi Office of Highway Safety Grant for the Waveland Police Department in the amount of $30,000.

The board scheduled the city’s Veterans Day parade for Saturday, Nov. 13 at 11 a.m.

The board tabled the blighted property public hearing for 624 Hwy. 90.

The board approved a motion to purchase several pieces of equip-vate community Diamondhead in June 1970.

“In the initial phase, Diamondhead Properties, Inc. established a set of use and maintenance restrictions for the purpose of enhancing and protecting the value, desirability and attractiveness of the real property through a Declaration of Restrictions, Conditions, Easements, Covenants, Agreements, Liens and Charges,” according to the lawsuit.

“Diamondhead Properties, Inc., and its successor in interest, Purcell, Inc., subsequently continued development of its land and, with the platting of each subsequent phase of the development, established a set of use and maintenance restrictions for each phase.”

In other words, as each new phase of development in the community began, new 50-year covenants were created for the properties in that phase.

The covenants — which gave the Property Owners Association the right to collect monthly dues, which are used to maintain and improve the community’s amenities and infrastructure — began to expire on June 17, 2020.

But according to the lawsuit, “Since each set of Covenants adopted the Master Covenants and the Master Covenant’s stated expiration date was fifty (50) years after the filing of the Master Covenants on June 18, 1970, each such Covenant expired on the same date as the Master Covenants, June 18, 2020.”

The plaintiffs complain in the suit that the POA continues to try to collect dues from property owners in areas of the city where the covenants have expired. “The POA bases its current controversial collection efforts on bylaws amendments approved by approximately 28 percent of property owners in 2010 although the covenants require 85 percent approval for any changes to them,” According to the EDU’s statement Monday. “By incorporating covenants into its bylaws without expiration dates, the POA theorized that it could extend covenants perpetually. The legal effect of that stratagem has long been in doubt.”

“By 2016, enough uncertainty had grown that the board itself filed suit to test its legality. Unfortunately, instead of litigating it, they let it sit two years then dropped it, trying out a different suit plus a legislative attempt to change the covenants, to no avail. Boards and their attorneys have wavered for a decade now on the question of legal rights when covenants expire, creating more and more confusion.

“It’s past time for theories, claims, disputes, and doubts. The only definitive answer can come from a duly constituted court of law. The members of EDU look forward to the end of this uncertainty by means of a final court decision.”

The group is asking the court to order the DPOA to “cease and desist from all efforts to assess and collect dues from any property owners in the units and phases of Diamondhead which are not longer subject to their particular covenants or after the expiration date of any covenants which expire by their terms hereafter” unless an 85 percent majority of property owners vote to allow it.

The plaintiffs are also asking the court to assess attorney fees and expenses against the DPOA.

Hancock History: Portrait of Hancock County 1918

In 1918, Hancock County (population 11,000) had a mostly agrarian, poor economy and was relatively isolated from the rest of the Gulf Coast. There were approximately 200 farms in the northern part of the county that used the small, historic, beautiful riverside ports of Kiln, Gainesville, Logtown, and Pearlington to trade crops for supplies. The streets of these picturesque towns were shaded by groves of stately, Southern live oak trees. Each town had a sawmill that employed most of the townspeople and represented the key source of employment and prosperity. Bay St. Louis was a small fishing village and resort with approximately 3,000 residents. Half of its citizens acquired their livelihood, either directly or indirectly, from the seafood industry or fishing. The Peerless Oyster Company operated a large cannery located at the present site of the Bay Waveland Yacht Club. A cannery of this size required a fleet of fifty sloops and schooners to harvest shrimp during the summer and oysters during the fall, winter, and spring.

HANCOCK HISTORY
By James Keating
M.D.

By the turn of the 20th century, there was enough business in the county to justify creation of two local banks. The Hancock Bank, formed in 1899, boasted $1M in assets and competed with the Merchants Bank. The railroads were built around 1875 and transformed the economy and lifestyle of everyone. Travel to New Orleans to shop or visit was a pleasant ride of only one hour.

A few items of interest will be noted in this portrait of days gone by. While walking in any of these small, charming villages, it was not unusual to see an errant cow poking her head into a neighbor’s vegetable garden. Most families owned a cow, some chickens, and maintained a sizable vegetable garden. Horses and buggies were commonplace in town and after 1915 you might see an occasional automobile. Roads were still made of dirt, gravel, or shells. There was no ferry across the Bay. A ferry did cross the Pearl River from Gainesville to a landing to allow one to travel along a road to Slidell.

The arrival of automobiles stimulated the construction of better roads, ferries, and bridges in the 1920’s. Claude Monte was a successful blacksmith in Bay St. Louis that had recently converted his shop from wheelwright and horseshoe repair to fixing gas engines and autos. Prohibition of alcoholic beverage-

Hancock County, get your vaccination

I just got mad as hell yesterday reading that Hancock County is only 24% vaccinated against the COVID virus, which is just inexcusable.

I see a number of younger people in their 20s and 30s who have an over-confidence in their ‘bulletproof’ vigor and good health that somehow their immune system will be different, and somehow protect them from COVID without having the clear and proven protection given by the vaccine.... and I have seen stunning irresponsibility as a result.

I have cousins who have been ‘too busy’ to get vaccinated: one just tested positive, and is getting over a relatively mild case that never needed to happen....

but uncertain how many others might have been infected in the process. Another member of my extended family, living in an adjacent state, just tested positive.... and was told by her doctor that it was OK to go to the grocery if needed, because the virus is probably already widely there. While this may be true, such professional irresponsibility should be grounds for losing a medical license.

I am beginning to think that there is a generational divide....not just a political one... where older folks like me remember that it was a big deal that Salk developed the polio vaccine and a bigger deal that Sabin developed the ‘sugar cube’ oral polio vaccine so that children (like me at the time) would not have to live in a dreaded Iron Lung (which was a fearful looking contraption) that made it clear that quality of life would be impeded IF one did not get the vaccine! I was VERY enthusiastic about the Sabin sugar cube as an alternative.

The basic immunizations against small pox, measles, mumps and rubella were a big thing and Do facts matter?

To the Editor:

Do facts matter anymore? In my opinion, absolutely, especially when conducting the Public’s business. And, it is most offensive to the Public when facts are pushed aside, and false narratives are created and perpetrated by Public officials themselves.

Point in case: the current false narrative that “slip owners fully support the Bay St. Louis Municipal Harbor; it’s funded by slip renters ONLY!!!! This unfortunate and damaging piece of misinformation seems to have given at least some slip renters the impression that they are entitled to special privileges at the Harbor. For instance, “reserved parking on the Harbor Parking lot.” When the City of Bay St. Louis signed the lease agreement with the Mississippi Secretary of State on July 22, 2011, there was no clause or language in the document that afforded ANYONE “reserved parking.” In fact, on pages 2 and 3, of the lease agreement, Section 2. USE OF LEASE PREMISES: 2. (c) the State emphasizes that “a higher public purpose of promoting the public access to and public use of the public trust tidelands and submerged lands and may be referred to collectively as USES.”

No one who would review the Revenue and Expense Reports submitted to Council at each of their regular meetings by the City Clerk could come to the conclusion that the Harbor is funded by only the slip renters. The math does not support that false narrative; does not come close. Council budgeted for the current fiscal year on the revenue side of the Harbor budget $384,260 for slip rent fees. To date, $266, 478.57 has been collected.

The July 31, 2021, Revenue and Expense Report submitted by the City Clerk reveals To Date expenses at the Harbor to be $1,124,855.52 and To Date Revenue of $1,003,950.90, leaving a spending deficit of $120, 904.62. The previous month’s spending deficit was slightly over $418,000. Grant funds (tax dollars) from the DMR helped to alleviate some of the deficit, but not completely. As I said, it is plain to see that the To Date slip rent revenue of $266,478.57 does not approach total funding of Harbor expenses of $1,124,855.52. Add to that 7 slip renters currently delinquent, according to the City Clerk.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Harbor is a facility built with public funds and maintained with public funds. Those are the facts from which Council has to develop the Harbor budget, not some false narrative which serves no mean-

Health Officials Investigate E. coli Outbreak Associated With Rankin County Camp Resort

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) has identified several cases of E. coli 0157 infection associated with use of the swimming pool and/or splashpad at the Jellystone Park Camp Resort-Yogi on the Lake in Pelahatchie, Miss.

The cases identified so far have exposure dates on the weekend of July 30th through August 1st, but additional exposures may have occurred through August 9, 2021. The pool and splashpad were closed on Au-

This is an evolving situation and MSDH is conducting an ongoing investigation to identify any additional cases. The management of the Jellystone Park Camp Resort-Yogi on the Lake are cooperating with the investigation and response.

ingful purpose toward the City adhering to its agreement with the Mississippi Secretary of State.

The citizens of Bay St. Louis, whose General Fund can be tapped to alleviate financial distress at the Municipal Harbor, elected their Council and entrusted them with the responsibility of protecting the ethical operation of their investment, and their total access to it as stated in the City's lease agreement with the State.

The Council has a responsibility to their citizens to do no less, and to also appoint representatives to the Harbor Commission who understand they have the same ethical responsibility, with no special privileges attached.

I would strongly suggest Council have their Harbor Master on the Agenda of at least one of their official meetings each month for a full report on Harbor operations. This $21 million dollar investment of the citizens of Bay St. Louis deserves close monitoring, which will put false narratives to rest.

During these last 4 weeks of budget preparation and beyond, the ball is in Council's court, and I hope for the sake of their citizens, they will act accordingly.

I think we have had several generations since who don't understand the degree to which these vaccines have ended past plagues and pandemics, and lengthened human lifespans. They have grown indifferent to the whole idea of vaccines...

es generated a booming business in the Kiln distilling whiskey. Foreign imported liquor was smuggled up the Jourdan River. Dr. A.P. Smith operated a small clinic/hospital on Main Street in the Bay.

The many wooden, historic cottages with picket fences usually had a stable/barn, a spring well, outhouse, and a chicken coop. There were only a few sidewalks in town. The Bay Light, and Bottling Works served Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and Clermont with electricity and streetlights, but only had 450 customers. Candles and kerosene lanterns supplied light for most. Wood was the source of heat for cooking and the fireplace. A family used a mule or horse for work or haul a wagon, but walking was the most common means of transportation.

During World War I, in the late spring of 1918, an influenza epidemic broke out in Europe among British, German, and French soldiers. It was ignored in the United States until August 1918 when soldiers returned from the war in Europe and infected other servicemen in the Boston area. The disease spread across America so quickly that that by the fall of 1918 the "Spanish Flu" (as it was erroneously referred to), reached every urban and rural community nationwide. In Hancock County, St Stanislaus College reported 200 cases of infection. The Mississippi Department of Health shut down the public schools. "Church services were cancelled, and public meetings and gatherings were postponed" for six weeks into November 1918. The movie houses were closed.

Dr. C.L. Horton in Bay St. Louis reported that hundreds of patients were stricken and conditions were worst than he had ever encountered in his experience as a physician. Dr. Adrian Heva treated patients in Waveland. The Ladies Aid Organization and volunteer citizens helped care for the the innumerable patients when the epidemic was at its height. The local health care facilities were overwhelmed. According to a Sea Coast Echo at the time "...everyday they were hauling caskets from Bay St. Louis to the Kiln. You'd see them (sic) trucks coming there with caskets." Dr. Horton succumbed to the infection and had to suspend his practice until he recovered. As a result, the mayor of the Bay, R.W. Webb, recruited a New Orleans physician, Dr. A.F. Rodes, to come rescue the community.

In Mississippi an estimated 6,219 patients died in 1918 and 3,013 in 1919. Hundreds died in the coastal counties of Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson. The Spanish Flu killed fifty million people the world over, more than the seventeen million killed in World War I. According to Wikipedia, in comparison, there were 616,120 deaths in the United States and 4,252,663 deaths worldwide due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

In our next column, the subject of World War I and the contribution of the most decorated Mississippi soldier of the Great War, a Hancock County man, Private Henry J. Tudury, will be presented. This compelling story tells how Private Tudury and General "Black Jack" Pershing with 1M other soldiers pierced the Hindenberg Line in the fall of 1918, the key event of the Meuse-Argonne offensive, which ultimately resulted in the surrender of Germany and the end of World War I.

with 88 COVID-19 related deaths.

“Mississippi’s total of COVID-19 cases since March 11, 2020 now stands at 368,549 with 7,685 deaths.” according to the agency’s statement on Tuesday. “There are now 158 active outbreaks of COVID-19 in long-term care facilities (where an outbreak is one or more cases among residents or staff).”

Twenty-two of the deaths reported on Tuesday occurred between Aug. 2 and Aug. 8. Fourteen deaths occurred between July 30 and Aug. 4, identified from death certificate reports.

As of Aug. 8, the MSDH reports that 1,349 Mississippians are hospitalized with confirmed infection; 345 patients in ICU; 45 patients hospitalized with suspected infection; and 205 patients on ventilators.

State Health Officer Dr. Thomas Dobbs said that Mississippi is now seeing its “fourth wave” of COVID cases.

“The rapid rise in COVID-19 hospitalizations from the delta variant is hitting younger adults — under 50 years old — the hardest,” according to the agency’s statement. “It’s our largest unvaccinated group. Please take steps right away to get protect. This is the delta variant at work. Hospitalizations for COVID-19 in Mississippi are almost four times higher than just three weeks ago. Please take this renewed outbreak seriously. Make sure you’re vaccinated, and if you’re over 65 or have a chronic medical condition avoid crowded indoor places (even if you’re vaccinated).

As of Aug. 6, about 13,587 Hancock residents — about 29 percent of the population — had received at least one dose of a COVID-19 vaccine. Only 11,272 Hancock residents — about 24 percent of the population — had been fully vaccinated.

The Mississippi Department of Transportation is offering help with transportation to vaccination sites. Call the toll free line at 1-866-813-3616.

The Pfizer vaccine is authorized for children as young as 12, while the Modern vaccine is for those 16 and up and the Johnson and Johnson vaccine is approved only for those 18 and up.

As of Aug. 9, the MSDH estimates that 326,558 Mississippi residents who had tested positive for COVID-19 are presumed recovered.

“Anyone with symptoms of fever, severe cough or severe chest pains — especially those who are older or in poor health — should make arrangements for testing with their doctor or one of the many healthcare providers now performing testing,” according to MSDH. “Healthcare providers can assess your health history and symptoms, and perform testing for COVID-19 as needed. Always call ahead to the testing provider for instructions on safely being examined before you visit for your test.”

said in a message to parents Monday.

“Please remember that each of us can do a few key things to help prevent the spread of COVID to include things such as wearing masks when indoors and when socializing outside of one’s nuclear family; still engage in social distancing efforts and limit unnecessary social gatherings; practice good hygiene practices such as covering your cough and using good hand hygiene. Most importantly, if your child is symptomatic, please keep him or her home and consult with your child’s school nurse. We believe that the key to keeping COVID down in the district is to keep sick students out of school buildings.”

Reed also urged everyone eligible — parents and age-appropriate students — to get a COVID-19 vaccine.

The school year officially began last Tuesday. Unlike most other school districts on the Coast, Bay-Waveland did not initially enact a mask mandate.

“To date, we have had a total of seven staff members that are positive (for COVID-19) and 21 students,” Reed told school board members at their meeting Monday, which was a continuation of the Aug. 7 meeting.

“It is because we spent a large part of the day today dealing with contact tracing of positive cases, and we found we were spending an inordinate amount of time doing that,”

The board unanimously approved Reed’s vaccination incentive policy for district employees — all employees who show proof they have been fully vaccinated by Nov. 30 will get a one-time payment of $1,000 on Dec. 17.

The vaccination payment will be made through the ESSER (Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief) Fund.

In other action Monday, the board approved the district’s $30.3 million budget for Fiscal Year 2022. Board members heard full details on the budget at the Aug. 2 meeting.

The board is scheduled to meet in regular session again on Sept. 14 beginning at 5:30 p.m.

pecially in very young children and the elderly, and is associated with severe stomach cramps, diarrhea (sometimes bloody), vomiting and fever. Some individuals develop a severe and potentially life-threatening condition called hemolytic uremic syndrome (HUS). HUS occurs about a week after symptoms first appear, as they are improving. It can lead to kidney failure in some cases. Early symptoms of HUS can be associated with decreased urination and fatigue.

Symptoms of E. coli infection usually develop three to four days after exposure, with a range between one and 10 days. Outbreaks with recreational waters such as pools and splashpads can occur when waters become contaminated by an infected person through diarrhea or fecal contamination, and other swimmers then swallow the water, becoming exposed and infected. Person to person transmission can also occur.

Individuals who were swimming in the pool or splashpad at Yogi on the Lake in Pelahatchie between July 30 and August 9 should monitor for symptoms of stomach cramps, diarrhea, vomiting and fever. Consult a healthcare provider immediately if you do have symptoms and tell your provider about your exposure.

Whether in the pool, the hot tub/spa, or water playground we can all help protect ourselves and our loved ones from germs by following these simple but effective steps:

Don’t swim or let children swim when sick with diarrhea.

Don’t swallow the water.

Take kids on bathroom breaks every hour.

Check diapers and change them in a bathroom or diaper-changing area — not poolside — to keep germs away from the pool.

Shower before you get in the water. Rinsing off in the shower for just one minute helps get rid of any germs that might be on your body.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON THE PROPOSED BUDGET AND PROPOSED TAX LEVIES FOR THE UPCOMING FISCAL YEAR 2022 FOR THE CITY OF DIAMONDHEAD MISSISSIPPI

The City of Diamondhead will hold a public hearing on its proposed budget and proposed tax levies for Fiscal Year 2022 at 6:00 p.m. on August 17, 2021 in Council Chambers at City Hall located at 5000 Diamondhead Circle, Diamondhead, MS 39525.

The City of Diamondhead is now operating with projected total budget revenue of $7,221,452 (40 percent) or $2,923,700 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For the next fiscal year October 1, 2021 ending September 30, 2022, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $5,165,710. Of that amount, (59 percent) or $3,027,250 is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

The decision to not increase the ad valorem tax millage rate for Fiscal Year 2022 above the current fiscal year’s ad valorem tax millage rate means you will not pay more in ad valorem taxes on your home, automobile tag, utilities, business fixtures and equipment and rental real property, unless the assessed value of your property has increased for Fiscal Year 2021.

Any citizen of the City of Diamondhead is invited to attend this public hearing on the proposed budget and tax levies for Fiscal Year 2022 and will be allowed to speak for a reasonable amount of time and offer tangible evidence before any vote is taken.

A millage rate of 29.44 will produce the same amount of revenue from ad valorem taxes as was collected for FY21. The millage rate for FY21 was 29.5.

“vast majority” of new cases are in the unvaccinated, about 97 percent.

Craig said that the healthcare system in Mississippi is under “enormous” stress citing insufficient staff to be able to staff all of the beds.

“Many hospitals have activated their emergency operations plans, including plans to augment their staffing,” he said.

The Mississippi COVID-19 System of Care Plan is still active, which assists in the transfer of ICU patients around the state, Craig said, but ICU beds are “very” limited.

Dobbs said that the healthcare system is an “exhaustible” resource.

“We’ll do everything we can to meet the need, but at some point we will surpass whatever supports can be given,” he said. “The best way to stop this is to prevent new cases from coming and the best way to do that is to get vaccinated to do the simple steps of masking in public, avoiding indoor social gatherings and until we do those sorts of things and take the school and university guidelines seriously, we’re going to continue to put unbearable stress on the healthcare system.”

Elective procedures that require hospitalization in certain tiers have been delayed, Craig said.

“Just know hospitals are looking at their crisis standard of care plans, because when they get to where they have to make hard choices about how they do things, this is the state of emergency where this is at most risk and happening about allocating resources,” Dobbs said. “Staffing is our biggest resource demand. And across the country, there’s no calvary that’s coming that’s going to bring a whole army of new nurses to fill in. It’s just not there. We’ll do everything we can to balance it out, but we’re just looking at some real significant pain points in the coming weeks. It’s just inevitable.”

Craig said that University of Mississippi Medical Center is “no different than many of the other hospitals that are seeing this pressure.”

“But also remember that UMMC is more than just a destination for COVID patients, it’s the state’s one and only level one trauma center,” Craig said. “So many of the very serious car accidents that we see in the state or other traumatic events, this is a destination needing those same resources, those same ICU beds. That’s why it’s so important that we minimize the impacts on the health care system the best way we can and one of the best ways we can is to get more people vaccinated.”

Dobbs said that the unvaccinated in the population are driving the current surge.

“We’re seeing about 89 percent of our hospitalizations and 85 percent of our deaths are unvaccinated,” he said. “The minority of folks who are vaccinated in deaths and also hospitalizations are overrepresented by being older and weaker immune systems. So, we’re seeing a pretty dramatic spillover effect from the transmission in our community to the more vulnerable parts of our population.”

Dobbs also recommended that anyone diagnosed with COVID-19 to speak with his or her health provider about treatment with monoclonal antibodies.

Dobbs said that the state is also seeing an increase of COVID-19 cases, hospitalizations, and deaths in younger adults.

“The trend that we have been seeing for a while, we have seen in the population of older individuals in Mississippi who are vaccinated, we’re seeing a phenomenal benefit as far as reduced risk of death and hospitalization,” he said. “That is seen particularly in our long-term care/nursing home situation where the majority of cases are in the employees and not the residents. And we’ve seen a major impact in improvement on hospitalization and death in long-term care residents, but still we’re going to see what more we can do to protect those in the most vulnerable situations.”

In the past couple of weeks, Dobbs said, there has been an increase in the number of vaccinations.

Dobbs said that the state is going to need about one million more “immune” people to get past COVID-19 in its current iteration.

“Looking at how contagious it is, we need to get to an immune level in the population over 80 percent,” he said. “And the best way to get there, the safest way to get there, is not through the death and destruction we’re going to see with the delta variant ripping through our population, but by getting more and more people protected by the highly effective and safe vaccine.”

Byers said that Mississippi’s total vaccination percentage is about 35 percent.

“It still lags in comparison to the United States, but we have had some improvement,” he said.

The vaccination status of the COVID-19 cases, hospitalizations, and deaths from July 13 to Aug. 9 were published on Aug. 10 on the MSDH’s website and are updated on weekdays.

Three percent of the cases are occurring in the fully vaccinated while 97 percent occurred in the unvaccinated. With regards to hospitalizations, 11 percent is occurring in the fully vaccinated and 89 percent of hospitalizations are unvaccinated. As far as COVID-19 deaths, 15 percent is occurring in the fully vaccinated with 85 percent of deaths in the unvaccinated, the report states.

Byers also gave the vaccine status by age group for deaths between the dates of Jan. 1 and Aug. 4. In the fully vaccinated, two deaths occurred in people ages 40-49; eight deaths occurred in people ages 50-64; and 41 deaths occurred in people 65 and older.

In the unvaccinated, two deaths occurred in people ages 5-17; six deaths occurred in people ages 18-24; 60 deaths occurred in people ages 25-39; 108 deaths occurred in people 40-49; 478 deaths occurred in people ages 50-64; and 1,805 deaths in people age 65 and older.

“The vaccine breakthrough deaths we are seeing are occurring in older individuals and those who have underlying immunocompromising or severe underlying co-morbidities that have reduced their immunity and left them more vulnerable to infection,” Byers said. “One of the problems is that we see so much transmission of COVID now that we are seeing spillover into the fully-vaccinated individuals, especially in those individuals who are vulnerable who may not mount an immune response from the vaccination. We have provided guidance to providers throughout the state to assess their patients who may be immunocompromised, individuals who have undergone transplants or undergoing treatment for cancer or have other immunocompromising conditions and consider a booster or third dose in those patients based on that assessment in order to provide them additional protection.”

Byers said there has been a “rapid” increase in the number of outbreaks in long-term care facilities.

“The majority of those cases have been in staff,” he said. “And just to illustrate the power of the vaccination for individuals in long-term care residences and in nursing home residences. Right now, our median vaccination rate for the long-term care settings, the nursing homes, that have active outbreaks is 86 percent. That means that 86 percent of the residents who are in those nursing homes that have ongoing outbreaks have been vaccinated. Of those, we’ve identified 170 cases and three deaths. Those three deaths are tragic, but out of those 170 cases occurring in those residences, we’ve had three deaths. I think, again, that’s an illustration of how well the vaccine is protecting those individuals from the serious complications and hospitalizations and deaths that can occur from COVID. On the flip side, when you look at the vaccination rate for the staff in those nursing homes with active outbreaks, the vaccination rate is 49 percent. And we do have a number of cases in those staff and only 24 percent of those individuals were vaccinated who were actually cases. Again, one of our weak points in the long term care settings is the staff vaccination rates, which can serve as a source of transmission in those settings.

MSDH recommends these patients speak with their physicians about boosters.

Byers said that the “overwhelmingly” majority of COVID-19 cases are occurring in unvaccinated individuals.

“And these individuals are often in younger age groups who may not have serious complications from COVID-19,” Byers said. “But are serving as a source for transmission to that most vulnerable population who may not mount a full immune response. It’s incumbent upon all of us to make sure that not only are we vaccinated to protect ourselves, but to protect those individuals around us from infection and vaccination is the best way to do it.”

Aligned with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) guidance, the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) recommends the following steps for all Mississippians to control the spread of COVID-19:

- Get a COVID-19 vaccination if you are eligible, ages 12 and up.

- MSDH recommends everyone (including those who are fully vaccinated) wear a mask in public indoor settings.

- If you test positive for COVID-19, even if fully vaccinated, you should isolate for at least 10 days from the beginning of your symptoms or from your test date if you have no symptoms.

- If you are exposed to someone with COVID-19, you should get tested 3-5 days following exposure. If you are not fully vaccinated, you should quarantine for at least 10 days after exposure (fully vaccinated persons do not have to quarantine after exposure, but should get tested).

- If you are 65 years of age or older, you should avoid all indoor mass gatherings, even if you have been vaccinated.

- If you have a chronic medical condition, you should avoid all indoor mass gatherings, even if you have been vaccinated.

In response to a questions as to why the state is back to pre-vaccination case rates, Byers said that “we’re not as vigilant about physical distancing and mask wearing as we were just a few months ago.”

“That’s leaving us more vulnerable to transmission so you add that to low vaccination rates in the state,” he said. “You add that to no consistency with wearing a mask or physical distancing and on top of that, a highly infectious variant strain and that’s leading to much of the increases that we’re seeing now.”

Craig said that “96 percent of America’s doctors are vaccinated for COVID.”

“In our studies here in the state, as well as other studies around the country indicate that patients really trust their doctor most for questions about vaccinations,” he said. “So if you have questions about vaccination, please reach out to your physician.”

Free vaccinations are available at all MSDH office locations during operating hours and appointments are encouraged. Appointments can be made at www.covid-vaccine.umc.edu.

MSDH is also offering assistance to businesses, organizations, cities, groups or individuals interested in holding a COVID-19 vaccination event in their community, particularly in rural or minority communities with less access to COVID-19 vaccinations. Call the MS COVID-19 hotline at 877-978-6543 for more information.

Craig also announced a new initiative called ‘Shots at the Shop,’ which will train African-American barbers and stylists to help “relay correct information to their customers, friends, and communities. The shops are encouraged to hold vaccine events in or near their shops.”

Craig said the program is paying $1,000 to shops who undergo training and host an event. The program is scheduled to begin on Aug. 16 and open to 500 of Mississippi’s barber-shops and salons.

If you are homebound and need assistance getting your COVID-19 vaccination, send an email to COVIDHomebound@msdh.ms.gov or call the Hotline at 877-978-6543.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AD VALOREM TAX EFFORT HANCOCK COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Hancock County School District will hold a public hearing on its proposed school district budget for fiscal year 2022 on August 12, 2021 at 5:30 at the Superintendent Office, 18375 Hwy 603 Kiln, MS. At this meeting, a proposed ad valorem tax effort will be considered.

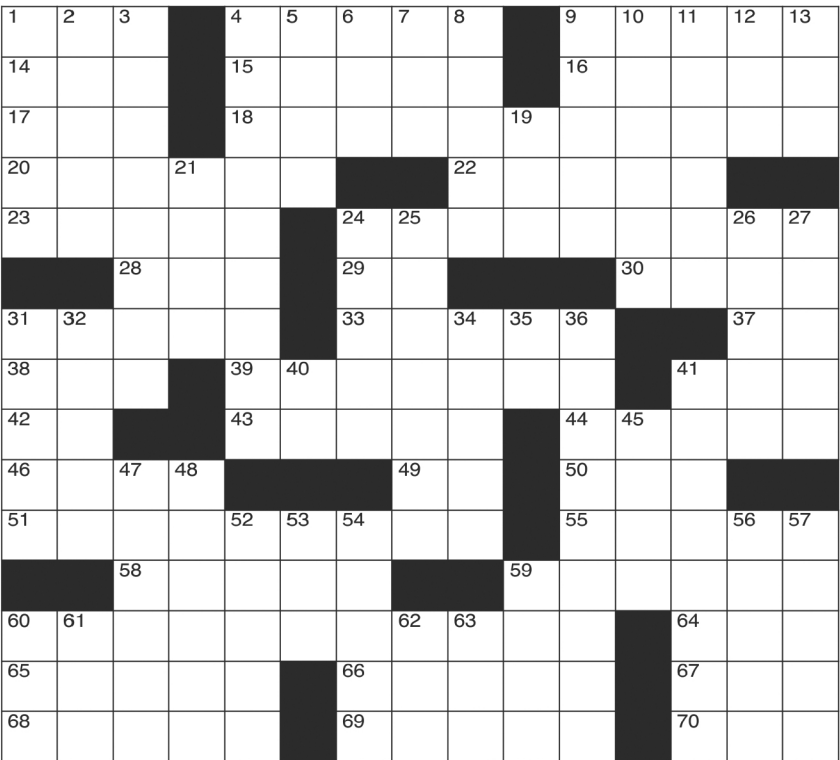

The Hancock County School District is now operating with projected total budget revenue of $46,840,184. Of that amount, 40.36 percent or $18,905,854 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For next fiscal year, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $53,339,094. Of that amount, 37.45 percent or $19,977,472 is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

For the next fiscal year, the proposed increase in ad valorem tax effort by Hancock County School District may result in an increase in the ad valorem tax millage rate. Ad valorem taxes are paid on homes, automobile tags, business fixtures and equipment, and rental real property.

Any citizen of Hancock County School District is invited to attend this public hearing on the proposed ad valorem tax effort, and will be allowed to speak for a reasonable amount of time and offer tangible evidence before any vote is taken.

Global Relationships

By C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

It seems that we live in dangerous times. News reports often bring various stories of tragedy, destruction, death, and despair. Bombings, mass shootings, and other violent acts seem to occur in places all around the globe with astonishing insensitivity and cruelty. Many times these terrible acts are answered with additional violence in retaliation. While the “eye for an eye” mentality seems to satisfy certain instincts within the human family, it is also true that for many of us, it offers a rather hollow reminder of the kind of world in which we live, and of our limited capacity to make it better. Disaster anywhere calls our attention to just how vulnerable we can be everywhere. The derangement of someone half a world away can touch the lives of persons that they do not even know. Political unrest, economic instability, the maddening lure of power may all serve to remind us of the fragility of our society. There are times when many of us wonder if there is any way that we can keep the world under control so that it remains a stable enough place for us to live and rear our families.

All the great spiritual teachings of the world remind us that we are not totally dependent upon outward circumstances. There is hope beyond ourselves, and there is responsibility within ourselves. While “The Lord is in his holy temple” is a comforting thought, it is important also to remember that the earth he has given to us. In other words we are “junior partners” with the almighty in the nurture and care of this world we have been given.

One of the hard lessons that we all need to learn is that we are becoming an increasingly global community. Nationalistic values can be inspiring and can drive up the level of sentiment in our spirits, but the real issues of the day are global. Questions of resources and distribution do not end at national borders, and these are the issues which, for the most part, form the basis of world conflict. If people of faith in the nations of the world could come to see brothers and sisters as allies rather than enemies we might see the beginning of something new and healing.

Of course these words smack of heresy to some, and of unrealistic wishful thinking to others. However, for centuries we have placed our faith in weapons, wealth, and technology while giving lip service to the Prince of Peace. Could it be that it is time to look for a more excellent way?

Meet Danny.
This 2 to 3 year old Labrador Retriever mix is stunningly handsome, and loves to play. He would be a great pal for another friendly dog, and would be a wonderful addition to any family, including one with outdoorsy kids seeking a canine buddy. He would love a fenced backyard to enjoy romping-n-playing with his family. Danny's favorite toy is his big, red octopus. He will bring it repeatedly to our kennel techs and volunteers to play his version of fetch. We hope his new family will fill a toy box full of stuffies, tennis balls, and squeaky toys for his amusement. Danny walks well on a leash and harness, and may be house trained, as he keeps his kennel clean. Whether a best buddy for a single person or couple, or a family pooch, Danny will bring joy to his forever family. If you are interested in adopting Danny, please call the shelter, 228 466 4516, to arrange a meeting. This sweet boy will win you over!

Shore Thing: A Fish for Duncan

Shore Thing Fishing Report
BY CPT. SONNY
SCHINDLER

A couple of weeks back, my old buddy Scott Heitzman sent me a guest list for a 3 day, 2 night cat island trip. I knew the majority of the names, since they were on the last trip he put together. One name stood out though, DUNCAN MATHESON.

I've known Dr. Duncan Matheson since the 1980's. We've only fished together a few times, but all the trips were memorable. This would also be one of those trips.

We had to dodge some serious storms to get out to Cat island. Once we got there, the big crew mingled, and waited for the weather to break. Finally, we got a gorgeous afternoon to go out and fish. As we were idling to a shoreline, we could see bait getting smashed. Duncan leaned over and said, "Man, I haven't fished in 3 YEARS"! I was speechless. Duncan lives on the water, owns a couple boats, heck I've gone tackle shopping with the dude.

He's just been too busy with his family, work, and a back surgery. This was his time.

He got on the bow of the boat, and it only took a couple of casts. He got a 15 1/4 inch trout. It wasn't a huge fish, but it was a special one. Everyone cheered Duncan on, and celebrated with him when the trout hit the deck. A few casts later, he had a big jack crevalle smash his bait. The fight lasted for a long time, and everyone was pulling for him.

No one cared much about anything, they were enjoying Duncan's reintroduction to fishing. Anytime Duncan got a fish on the line, it became a big production. Sometimes it was his buddies, and sometimes Duncan himself put on a show. He got to play DJ on the tunes. There was a heavy amount of his favorite "fishing music", The Allman Brothers.

Other people in the big group caught more and bigger fish. By the end of our 3 days, they had put together a very nice pile of fish. I can with full confidence say, that NO ONE, enjoyed themselves more than my old friend Duncan. Glad to have our guy back on the water. Welcome back buddy!

Brennan comes through surgery well, looking ahead to return

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

Myles Brennan, the former SSC All-American quarterback who was in the running to be the starter at LSU, came through surgery successfully to repair a compound fracture on his humerus bone on his non-throwing left arm on Tuesday, August 3 in Baton Rouge.

Brennan broke the bone when he was loading up to go fishing in Grand Isle last week before fall camp started. He tripped on a loose board on the dock and was unable to catch himself while his arms were full with gear his father, Owen, told WWL radio in an interview last Wednesday.

The elder Brennan revealed that his son still went fishing thinking it was just a bruise but realized the injury was more than that the following day.

During surgery, a metal plate and screws were inserted to aid the healing process. Brennan started physical therapy on Friday, August 6, and is expected to start throwing again in two weeks. It is possible he could be ready to play September 25 against Mississippi State or October 2 against Auburn; however, LSU has not released a timetable.

Brennan was the LSU starter for the 2020 season before he suffered an abdominal injury in the third game against Missouri. Brennan finished the game but was sidelined for the remainder of the season due to the injury. In 2020, Brennan threw for 1,112 yards and 11 touchdowns in three games.

Brennan has a other year of eligibility due to COVID-19 last year and could possibly receive another through a medical redshirt.

The elder Brennan stated in the interview with WWL radio that his son has no plans to transfer and wants to end his career in Baton Rouge as the starter at LSU, whatever path that takes.

DAIQUIRIS AND ANTIQUES HEADLINE THIS WEEKEND'S FESTIVITIES

BY CAITLIN BOURGEOIS

MAGNOLIA ANTIQUES
200 MAIN STREET
OPEN 7 DAYS, 10-5
(228) 467-8170

If you've ever found yourself curious as to how Magnolia Antiques finds their goods, the answer is simple – everywhere and every way you could imagine. The family-run business prides itself on finding eclectic pieces through the most mundane, yet interesting, ways.

Jack and Glenda Schornick, owners of Magnolia Antiques, purchase goods for the shop while on their country-wide travels. With the everyday operations now passed down to their daughter, Shay Coss, the interesting purchases continue to delight shoppers. Shay notes that buying from sources both near and far helps to keep the shop's inventory as varied as the owner's taste.

The exciting aspect of shopping with Magnolia Antiques is the rarity of a piece. If you see something you like, don't pass it up! The likelihood you'll find it tomorrow is rare. If you are hunting for a particular piece and don't see it today, the same applies in reverse: It might be there tomorrow! The coming and going of goods is intriguing, and you just never know what you may come across inside this antique shop.

While the past year has presented its share of difficulties for Magnolia Antiques, they stayed strong and pulled through together. The owners are eternally grateful to their loyal customers for helping them to keep their doors open.

Celebrate with Magnolia Antiques on Second Saturday from 4 to 7 as they host the multi-talented Kelsey Moran in their courtyard. Remember – whether you're looking for a unique find or a piece of classic nostalgia, Magnolia Antiques is the spot to begin your treasure hunt.

DAIQUIRI SHAK
106 COURT STREET
OPEN SUN-THURS 11-8,
FRI-SAT 11-11
(228) 344-3440

They may not be new in town, but Daiquiri Shak's new location has excited locals and tourists alike. After several delays, Owners Rhonda Bridges and her husband, Gus, opened the doors to their much-anticipated new location on Court Street a year ago. Now, after another delay due to COVID-19, the local daiquiri bar is hosting their Hancock County Chamber of Commerce ribbon-cutting during Second Saturday at 4 pm.

Daiquiri Shak's new location is a comfortable fit for folks who like to kick back with a cold drink in their hand. Enjoy the outdoor seating while listening to live music and sipping one of the evening's specials. You can catch Rhonda, Gus or their daughter, Carrie, throughout the week while relaxing with your favorite beachside drink. The drinks may be great, but the down-home feel is what bring guests back for more.

Following the Hancock Chamber of Commerce's ribbon cutting at 4 pm, Daiquiri Shak will celebrate their anniversary with specials, cake and a prize wheel. Not only will the Bridges family be celebrating the one-year anniversary of Daiquiri Shak's new location, but this family-owned business is also celebrating five years in Old Town! The Dave Mayley Band will be playing live outdoors beginning at 5 pm. Catch a breeze, sip a daiquiri and enjoy this local band!

Don't miss out on the fun on Court Street from 4 to 7 with Daiquiri Shak!

ment using sales tax funds collected above budgeted revenues: 1. Used crane truck not to exceed $49,5500. 2. Used one-ton dump truck for $40,000. 3. New mini-excavator for $40,000. 4. New Bobcat (type) walk behind for $40,000.

The board approved to advertise a notice of intention to lease commercial cafe/restaurant space within the Ground Zero Museum/Civic Center. The advertisement is scheduled to run in the Sea Coast Echo on Aug. 11, 18, and 25.

City attorney Malcolm Jones told the board about the need to hire Dwight Haskel as a consultant, who used to work for the city. "He's not currently a certified gas operator, but he was," he said. "We have a meeting that's coming up where we have to basically make a presentation to the Public Service Commission and the director of the enforcement and one of the things that we're going to have is that we have certain record keeping in place that's required for reports and various things. And although Bo has done a good job of taking the test and getting trained to be a certified gas operator, he doesn't have the background yet to be able to create the forms and have all the reports that you have to have in place. He told me today that he would like to hire Mr. Haskel to be a consultant to assist in that regard. We're going to have to figure out some sort of way to get him into compliance and do it quickly because that time is fast approaching, Aug. 23 or 24."

Waveland's Public Works Manager Bo Humphrey told the board that Haskel is going to recreate the previous system that he used, which involves recreating forms and teaching Humphrey the process.

The board approved a motion to hire Haskel as a consultant for $50 an hour not to exceed 10 hours per pay period.

The next meeting is scheduled for Aug. 18 at 6:30 p.m. and will not be held in person due to the increase in COVID-19 cases. The meeting will be hosted via GoToMeeting virtual platform. Residents can dial in to the meeting and the number will be posted on the city's website by Friday, Aug. 13 at www.waveland.ms.gov.
